

Headteacher's Message

One week left until half-term and even though the children are all exhausted they have still been working very hard. A reminder to everyone to please send children in with outdoor coats, hats and, if needed, gloves, as we try to ensure the children have some time outside during playtimes.

Kingfishers

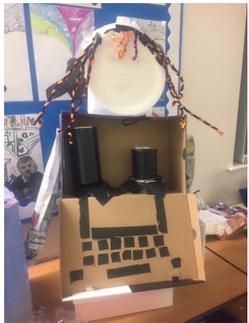

This week we have been learning about Diwali: the festival of light.

We have used different resources to create Rangoli patterns and we are making lamps out of salt dough.

On Thursday, the Year Ones joined us to look for evidence of different animals in our environment and the children had a go at drawing some animal footprints.

Curlews

Miss Alexander has been really impressed with our progress in maths this week! We have been learning about ordinal numbers, ordering numbers and placing numbers on a number line. In topic we debated which famous explorer was our favourite; Neil Armstrong was the most popular closely followed by Captain Scott. In art we created some stunning paintings based on our colour mixing and we have been working extra hard on our handwriting.

Red Kites

This week we have been putting the final touches to our inventions. After learning about some of Wallace and Gromit's Cracking Contraptions we decided we should build our own.

The children loved it and their inventions are amazing - we will be leaving them out during Parents' Evening so please come and take a look.

THRESHFIELD PRIMARY SCHOOL

WELL DONE!

A huge, well-deserved, WELL DONE to our cook Mrs Garvey.

We all know her dinners are delicious but after her inspection last week, she is now being celebrated for her spotless kitchen too.

After an unannounced inspection, we were graded:

5 stars
