Headteacher's Message

Another week has passed and unfortunately winter seems to be closing in. The mornings are becoming darker and it has been quite cold these last couple of days. Therefore, please can children start bringing their hats and gloves into school to keep them warm when they are outside.

On another note, when cleaning the dining hall floor after lunch we found some whole grapes which had fallen from someone's lunch box. As a cautionary tale, there have been many alerts sent through from North Yorkshire Health and Safety team about the significant choking hazard of whole grapes and has been something that has happened in quite a few schools in our area. Therefore, please can all grapes be sliced lengthways for lunchboxes. Thank you

Curlews

We started the week with an Autumn walk in the beautiful sunshine. We collected leavers and conkers, which inspired our poetry that created over the week.

In numeracy, we have been counting in 3s—cleverly learning our times tables.

Red Kites

In Red Kites, we have put our thinking caps on and have been designing some inventions which will make our lives easier. Now we have created diagrams of our inventions, we can use them in our instructional and explanatory writing pieces.

In numeracy, we have been rounding numbers and thinking about how this skills can help us in our everyday life.

Kingfishers

This week we are continuing with our topic all about me. The children have been using a range of resources to write their name and their super portraits are now displayed outside our classroom. Some children have been busy creating an outdoor garage and the boxes are being used to create structures. The small world area with houses and people has been a popular area this week.
